

Today, the Institute of Policy Innovation (IPI) awarded “A’s” in Tax Policy 101 to thirty-five members of the House. Not coincidentally these thirty-five members all voted against the “stimulus package” that passed the House on January 29. Yours truly was among them. In fact, I was the only one to... Today, the Institute of Policy Innovation (IPI) awarded “A’s” in Tax Policy 101 to thirty-five members of the House. Not coincidentally these thirty-five members all voted against the “stimulus package” that passed the House on January 29. Yours truly was among them. In fact, I was the only one to speak out against the package on the floor. You can find the ten Democrats and the twenty-five Republicans that also voted against it below.

Brian Baird (D-WA)

Marion Berry (D-AR)

Allen Boyd (D-FL)

Paul Broun (R-GA)

Michael Burgess (R-TX)

John Campbell (R-CA)

Howard Coble (R-NC)

Jim Cooper (D-TN)

Barbara Cubin (R-WY)

Tom Davis (R-VA)

Nathan Deal (R-GA)

Jeff Flake (R-AZ)

Randy Forbes (R-VA)

Phil Gingrey (R-GA)

Louie Gohmert (R-TX)

Virgil Goode (R-VA)

Duncan Hunter (R-CA)

Tim Johnson (R-IL)

Marcy Kaptur (D-OH)

Jack Kingston (R-GA)

John Linder (R-GA)

Ron Paul (R-TX)

Collin Peterson (D-MN)

Ted Poe (R-TX)

Tom Price (R-GA)

Dana Rohrabacher (R-CA)

Ed Royce (R-CA)

Loretta Sanchez (D-CA)

James Sensenbrenner (R-WI)

John Shadegg (R-AZ)

Adam Smith (D-WA)

Tom Tancredo (R-CO)

Gene Taylor (D-MS)

Lynn Westmoreland (R-GA)

Robert Wexler (D-FL)